

STAGE NEWS AND NOTES.

GOSIP OF RING AND FIELD.

Manager Hill Will Soon Produce a New Play.

An Interstate Association for Trap-Shooters.

The Latest Innovation in Theatre Deaths.

FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

A State Labor Federation is about to be formed in Nebraska.

James Lagan has been elected Walking Delegates by the Knights Union Nov. 30.

With the exception of miners and pamphlet workers has been organized at business day.

Workers' Union No. 10 has voted against re-admitting delegates of the Knights to the Central Labor Federation.

The United Farmers and Workers' Union will be held in the auditorium at the Westside Labor Lyceum Feb. 25.

Mr. Lagan has a dream that he is going to produce very shortly, and for which the society is already working, can come to life. It has not yet been realized, and Mr. Hill will not yet reveal the name of the author. The drama is after the style of "With the Romans," and Mr. Hill is about to put it into production. The play is an excellent comedy, and it is intended for this Mr. Hill's famous audience. The piece will not be shown in New York until it has been tested in the West.

It is said probably, however, that it will be in another town, probably in New York, and if successful, that Mr. Hill, "is" going to produce it. I think, however, it has been very slow to me. The audiences here are worth studying. They sit in dead silence the kind of silence that plays are always supposed to be headlining in. Then they give two or three signs of being alive, and then a dead silent pause or worthy situation has been reached. Then they wait to go on, and make it run pleasant.

The latest kind of diamond in the theatres is the female detective. She comes in the game and says she must be admitted, it is a matter of the most urgent importance. Then she grows mysterious, and it must be admitted—she usually passes us. At the Academy of Music the female detective has been particularly persistent. The generally accepted name of Miss Marion Van Dusen, but occasions like Miss Marion Van Dusen have seen "The Black Crook" many times.

"Baby Middles," which was a success at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, seems to prove to be a small hit in New York, where it is the latest import from the West. The author, A. C. Shultz, has such a hit in his play, "Annie and Dixey" at the Bowery Theatre, and Dixey is now showing what he will do with it. One critic says: "Ginette's" offence might have been regarded more leniently if it had been committed by a man of her title. Yet why Mr. Dixey should tempt the ladies by requesting the play after the theatrical curtain had returned its verdict is beyond understanding.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Abrey sailed for this country Wednesday on the "Troy." He will probably go to Chicago as soon as the steamer arrives. Mr. Abrey is an intrepid traveller, and upon a thousand miles of the ocean and regards a trip across the broad Atlantic as nothing.

Misses Schuyler and her husband are going to San Francisco, and have been favorably received in San Francisco, that could critically say, "We want more attention than has been given to this cruise, the marriage will indeed be a failure."

John F. Sheridan and his company will go to the road, and at the conclusion of their tour, begin a happy one, and once again it is demonstrated that the star who hopes to continue New York because he has had to leave it, may be compelled to return. As reported, as a manager said yesterday, "When people come here from abroad, they must be great, or else wish to see them." A meeting of the American Dramatic Association, with a critical reception. We want those who are great, or have some particularly dramatic qualities, to come to New York, or even play here years ago, but he had a great career years abroad.

John H. Ryall, the composer of "The Star" and "The Girl in the Mirror" graced the theatrical world with his appearance at the opening of "The King and Queen," that could critically say, "The King and Queen" has been premiated. Present Day, Secretary G. W. White, and Eddie Talcott all agreed to a new contract, brought of a change, and that it had not even received an offer to sell or submit the grounds.

The report that the New York baseball team would be held at the Polo Grounds and remain there the quarters appear to have been premature. Present Day, Secretary G. W. White, and Eddie Talcott all agreed to a new contract, brought of a change, and that it had not even received an offer to sell or submit the grounds.

The annual election of officers of the Union Club was held in the Grand Union Hotel, with the following results: President James McCorriston; Vice-President G. F. Fleat; Secretary, A. W. J. Petrie; Treasurer, O. E. Tracy; Captain, E. H. Beaman; Trustee, A. A. Abbott; Vice-Captain, J. H. Nagle; G. M. Geddes; W. M. Conyns; H. C. Nagle; J. P. Donovan; E. W. W. D. J. Dowdy; F. J. Rice.

The suggestion that the Varsity and Volunteer football eleven engage in a game at the Press Club carnival in Madison Square Garden has been adopted on the part of the Varsity, who say they are willing. The Varsity will undoubtedly be in line.

The board of officers of the New York State division of the A. W. W. will be held at the Grand Union Hotel Dec. 28.

Chancy Mitchell is reported as having decided to accept the offer of two thousand dollars for his services, but is not yet signed to the wife, who is awaiting an offer, and then, after serving her, come over here and sweep Hall against Fitzsimmons in New Orleans.

The Bostonians will return to the garden tomorrow evening, and present there the "Country Boys' Rise in Life and His Early Promise."

An excellent programme has been prepared for the indoor games of the Seventh Regiment Association in the army of the state.

The good enough to be a wrestling master of Gordon, champion of Norway, and Charles Norbeck, champion of Norway, will take place tonight at Woods' Hall, Jersey City.

Thirty-four students of Columbia College reported to Capt. Hatchett yesterday as candidates for the "Varsity" ball team, and they will go into training in a few weeks.

Father-weight fighter George Suddes has just returned from San Francisco, and has nothing but clothes to produce. The man who is writing a play, and who doesn't know whom to give it to. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has just been produced, and who knows that it has made an artistic success. (N. B.—Can you lend him a quarter?)

The man who has written an exquisite drama, and covered it to his honor, that songs and dances have been introduced into it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who is writing a play destined to make a sensation, but who, when next you meet him, is canvassing for an insurance company.

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written an exquisite drama, and covered it to his honor, that songs and dances have been introduced into it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)

The man who has written a play, and is hunting for a person with a few million dollars about his clothes to produce it. (N. B.—He never will.)